After 1 1/2 years at BJ's I eventually picked up this job along side it
I was hired into this job 1 month before the restaurant had opened and was part of the opening crew
I was seeking to learn more as I had learned very much at BJ's
I started as a host and was moved up to Barback after 1-2 months, it was very fast paced work, involving a large amount of knowledge of the inventory we had, and was eventually made the main/head Kegger each week helping with shipments and inventory
I very much enjoyed this job and it was a great opprotunity to further my experience in restaurants, explore a new position, and continue improving upon my customer service ability
